HEAVYWEIGHTS TO MEET IN FRISCO TOMORROW

Winner of the Smith-Moran Go Will Have to Be Considered as Possible Opponent for the Survivor of McCarty-Palzer Tea Party

Gunboat Smith and Frank Moran will do the honors in San Francisco on the evening of December 27, five days before the great southern mixup. Try that time the whole world, and particularly the United States, will have become well smoked up to the bottles of the giants. As there are four candidates for the honored place, the situation looks up like an elimination contest, and the man who comes out of it undefeated will be the man to hand the crown to.

With all due respect to Palzer and McCarty, there is a man from Pittsburgh who will shape up favorably with either of them. This man is Frank Moran who came to the Coast last summer as an unknown and who in the meantime has worked himself right up into the front row of the American hopes.

Survival of The Fittest

Moran is a good puncher, a fair boxer and an all round rough and tumble fighter. He had had a lot of experience among the bushers, but never got a chance at the big game. All he craves is this opportunity and he is deserving of the chance. He did all that could have been expected of him in the four and ten round game, and he is now out to make his hit as a 20 round fighter, for he meets Gunboat Smith on the evening of December 27 at Dreamland.

Smith is a great fighter when he is winning, but when he is losing he is very liable to place his good right hand on the top rope of the ring and break a vaulting record. It must be said to his credit that he can hit a blow like the trip hammer which we hear so much about, but when the other fellow hits him the fans can make up their minds to say goodnight and go home.

The Moran-Smith battle will eliminate one of the big fellows from the ranks anyhow. It is impossible for them all to survive. They must thin the rank to two contenders and pull the elimination contest before the fans lose interest. Everybody on the mainland is smoked up now over the big fellows and the game is going to thrive if only two of them run up to real Queensbury form.

What healthy Nerves Mean to You.

A strong vigorous nervous system means health, strength and ability to endure hardship and also to enjoy the full pleasures of life.

The man with healthy nerves accomplishes greater tasks with less fatigue. He has a clear eye, an active brain and a sound body. He is enabled to think better and work faster. He has energy. With healthy nerves he can overcome the hardest competition, be successful and gain wealth.

The woman with healthy nerves is never listless, weak or hopeless. She is not irritable, she never suffers from hysteria, she has a reserved surplus of endurance. Healthy nerves will prevent the sleepless mother, although worn with care and nursing, from a "break down" caused by her double or treble duty.

All men and women who suffer from these forms of nervousness—known as Nerve Exhaustion—have "gone to pieces," who lack energy, who have insomnia, who have succumbed to nervous prostration or nervous exhaustion, either mental or physical, whose condition is one of irritable weakness, will find ready relief and cure in the peculiar oriental properties of

SOCCER GAME FIZZLE; HIGHS NOT ON FIELD

The much-touted soccer game between the Malles and the High School team, which was scheduled to take place yesterday afternoon on Moiliili field as a curtain-raiser for the football game between the Townies and the Soldiers, turned out to be a disappointing fizzle. The Malles had their men on the field all right, but the Highs showed up with about half the number of players required to make a team. Those who were there divided up and played a scrub game, neither side scoring.

BILLY PAPKE HAS REGAINED FORM

When Billy Papke of Kewanee, Ill., returns to America it will be to battle for the middleweight boxing championship of the world. When he is to return is not known at present, but it is thought it will be within a few months. At present he is fighting in France and England with much success. He has been across the pond less than six months and in that period has won the championship of his division in England and France. He has had three battles and won all three on knockouts.

Papke is in the form displayed when champion of the world and stood as a rival to Stanley Ketchel for the honors. Then he was referred to as the "Illinois Thunderbolt" and he was deserving of the appellation. Defeats by Ketchel took most of the aggressive fighting spirit out of him and he has been some time in recuperating. It is said he has fully recovered and is a "Tipton Slasher." He has his former knockout punch back and is as fast as ever. His condition, reports have it, could not be improved upon and he is making the middleweight limit without any trouble.

There will be considerable action in the middleweight ranks when Papke comes back. Aside from Ketchel, no 155 pounder was more popular than the Kewanee lad since the days of Tommy Ryan. His style of milling was liked, as was his willingness to "scrap" while in the ring. Papke, when struggling for the title a few years ago, never was known to stall. Getting into the ring and slugging toe to toe with his opponent was his chief hobby, and he made himself famous with his "loop-de-loop" punch, which he first used successfully against Hugo Kelly in Milwaukee, when he conquered the then crack middleweight fighter.

He has not changed his style of boxing any, it is said. This means there is trouble ahead for Eddie McGooty and Mike Gibbons, who are striving to settle the middleweight championship of America among themselves. Neither has met a fighter of Papke's type and will find the going a bit rough when they meet one. Neither can hit hard enough to stop Papke. Ketchel was known as the assassin in the ring when he knocked out thirty-three men in forty-six fights and this included the best sluggers of his day. Papke, in his bouts with the late champion, staged a bitter and desperate fight and gave as good as he received until he was knocked out. He lost because Ketchel carried the stiffer punch.

McGoorty is said to be a heavy puncher, but he does not carry the wallop that the Kewanee lad did. A bout between McGooty and Papke ought to be a splendid battle, as both are constructed on "practical" by the same lines and there is not much difference in their ruggedness. Gibbons would not stand a bright chance of whipping the Kewanee man. Kick is there.

That Papke still retains his "kick" in both hands is apparent from the decisive victories scored. He started out by winning the British middleweight championship when he knocked out Champion Jim Sullivan. This triumph apparently encouraged and instilled confidence in him, for he sought a bout with George Carpentier, French champion, who was touted as a wonder and coming champion of the world. They were matched and Papke stopped him in nineteen rounds, after one of the fiercest contests seen in France. Papke clashed with George Bernard Wednesday night, whom he pummeled so badly the French individual was unable to respond to the call of the gong in the seventh round. Three knockouts in less than six months is an excellent record for a middleweight.

There is no use denying Papke will return to America prepared to go through the middleweight ranks like a cyclone. He will have a lot of competitors, as there are nearly a dozen men in the field who are eager to win the wreath. Foremost among these are McGooty and Gibbons. They probably will be the first men Papke will be matched with when he comes back and it is more than likely the affair will be settled on the twenty round route on the coast, unless the New York promoters grab Papke when

CAPTAIN WALTER S. BUCKMASTER WILL LEAD ENGLISH POLOISTS IN INTERNATIONAL CUP CONTESTS

CAPTAIN BUCKMASTER.

NEW YORK.—American polo enthusiasts have expressed much pleasure at the receipt of a challenge for the American international polo cup from the Hurlingham Club of England. According to the revised conditions of the American international polo cup, presented in 1886 by the Westchester Polo Club of Newport, U. S. A., for competition between England and America, challenges for the cup must be made by the Polo Association of America or the Hurlingham Club not later than Jan. 15 of the year in which the competition is to take place. The matches—the best of three games—must be played between June 1 and July 15 or as soon after as the weather permits, the holders having the option of naming the time and place. The cup can be played for only once a year. The challenging English team is being sponsored financially by the Duke of Westminster, who is said to have corralled the best of the ponies obtainable in the British Isles. Last year the cup was successfully defended at Meadow Brook, N. Y., by the quartet composed of Harry Payne Whitney, Lawrence Waterbury, J. M. Waterbury and Devereux Milburn, who had brought the trophy back to this country as the result of a victory at Hurlingham in 1909. Eight or ten of England's best players will come to the United States, so that in case of accident there will be plenty of men on hand to step into any gap. The team, under the captaincy of Walter S. Buckmaster, will probably be selected from Lord Wodehouse, Captain G. E. Bellville, Captain Leslie St. C. Cheape, Captain J. Hardress Lloyd, Captain R. G. Ritson and F. M. Freake, while Captain F. St. J. Atkinson and B. A. B. Schreiber, with one or two other players, will be asked to make the trip. English polo men express themselves as confident of winning the international games in America. Some men on the team have wonderful records. Walter S. Buckmaster acquired fame with the old Cantabs team, the winners of the Hurlingham cup last summer. Captain Cheape was a great player with the team in 1911, he walks off the boat and make him influencing offers and "square" him with the commissioners. One or two ten round bouts in the east probably would act as a "tester" to show the fans he is the same Billy Papke who once wore the crown.

LT. WELLS CUP WINNER

The Infantry Golf Club held a medal play handicap the day before Christmas over its course at Schofield Barracks, which brought out a field of 21 players, and proved a big success all round. Lieutenant Wells, Second Infantry, carried off the silver cup offered as first prize by Lieutenant Jackson of the same regiment, with a net 89. The first half dozen players finished closely bunched, showing that the handicapping had been well done.

The Infantry course provides a really good test of the game now, and both fair green and putting surfaces are constantly improving under steady and intelligent care. Lieutenant Matthews has charge of the links, and his work is showing good results. Golf at the big army post has jumped into popular favor with surprising rapidity, and from a scant half dozen who patronized the game less than a year ago, when Major Smith laid out the course and started the ball rolling, the club membership has now grown to nearly fifty, including many of the ladies of the Infantry garrison. This does not include all the players at Schofield, for the cavalry and artillery have their own course near the upper cantonments.

Following were the scores of Tuesday's play:

	Gross	Net
Wells	104	89
Snow	96	90
Stamper	115	91
Jackson	113	93
Mathews	95	95

Gibson	97
Townsend	113
Longenecker	112
Watkins	111
Skekerjain	131
Little	124
Mount	101
McAndrews	103
Booth	119
Wright	127
Rose	117
Hefeman	150
Samuelson	168

NEXT LOCAL MILL STARTS LOTS OF TALK

With Bauersack and Madison matched for a fourth fight January 11, local fans have already commenced speculation as to the probable outcome, and some random wagers have been made at even money. The army isn't behind the soldier-scraper as a unit, as some people believe, for the simple reason that your thirty-third degree fight fan has well formed opinions based on fact and merit, and that if he thinks Eddie Madison is the better man he is not going to sacrifice good coin through any mistaken loyalty to the uniform. Possibly one-third of the soldiers who regularly attend fist engagements here like the Madison end, and consequently, there is plenty of argument, some of it backed by the real stuff, right at Schofield Barracks.

The fact that the mill is to be staged at Schofield gives it immensely added interest to the soldier fans, and there is little worry over getting the attendance, with approximately 2000 men minus other form of entertainment that night. The question is rather, will the S. R. O. sign have to be hung out in front of the Infantry Amusement Hall.

Neither man anticipates any difficulty in making the required 150 pounds ringside, as both have come down to that notch for the last two fights with great ease.

The all important matter of a referee hasn't been taken up yet, and possibly this will prove something of a stumbling block, as the field is none too well supplied.

This time the men will go 20 rounds, this distance being satisfactory to both fighters. As often happens among the glove fraternity, each principal harbors the belief that he will have a better chance over the longer route, and that with an extra five rounds he can win by the k. o. route. Certainly the fans would have liked to see the two last fights extended, and so the added distance is satisfactory all around.

ANYWHERE BUT GREECE FOR THE OLYMPIC GAMES

The Greeks are beginning to give up hope of ever seeing an Olympic gathering in their matchless stadium again. The Greek Olympic committee planned a meeting in 1916, but an upset in King George's navy bordering on a revolution nipped it. Plans were under way for a meeting in 1912, but the Balkan war has "crabbed" that also.

Now comes the hint that the European Olympic committee is opposed to Olympic games in intermediate years, such as the one at Athens in 1914. It is obvious that the members of the international committee believe that the meetings held in intermediate years will "take the edge" off the interest in the regular four-year series. This means a wait of some years for the Greeks. Paris and Rome already are mentioned for the 1920 meeting, and it looks as though Athens is in for a long wait, unless the Greeks go on their own hook and run the risk of incurring the displeasure of the international Olympic committee.

Hall's Drop-Kick Is Town Team's Victory

Quarterback's Toe Scores Three Points and Wins a Hard-Fought Game from Schofield Barracks Eleven in Christmas Contest on Moiliili Field

A drop kick from the twenty-yard line by Quarterback Hall during the last minute of play, won the game for the Town Team in their gridiron battle with the Schofield Barracks eleven at Moiliili Field yesterday afternoon. Resorting at times to forward passes and trick plays, both teams raced up and down the field during the four quarters, each endeavoring, either by strategy or straight football, to rush the oval over the goal line, and until the last minute of the fourth quarter it looked as if there would be no score by either side. When the Townies were within ten yards of the Soldiers' goal, Hall stepped back and, with a pretty drop from the twenty-yard line, sent the ball sailing over the heads of the men from the barracks, and straight between the uprights, giving victory to his team by a score of 3 to 0.

Nearly five hundred people saw the second game between these two aggregations, and the weather conditions were perfect for football, barring the slight showers which made their appearance at intervals, driving the spectators off the sidelines and into the grandstand. The excellent game put up by the soldiers was a surprise to many, but as they went onto the field with practically a new lineup save for a few members of the team, who starred in the first game, it could be plainly seen by the way they played that their coaches had remedied the faulty spots that galled when they first tried their skill against the townies. The boys from Schofield also put up a clean game, but at times they were a little stubborn in agreeing to the rulings of Referee Schuman. They adhered the greater part of the game to straight football without using any of the frills, bringing the line rush into play and using the skintackle and end run only a few times. When they saw fit to use the forward pass, they were usually more or less lucky in getting gains out of it, and the ends did remarkably well in following them up and also in running down punts.

The Townies played with practically the same lineup as was used in the first game, and played with their usual clean style. The line deserves special mention for the way they held the soldiers down when that team was twice within ten yards of their goal line. The Townies outplayed the men from the barracks and in many cases made good gains on this account. The forward pass was used very little, but it also proved to be a winner. While each of the former stars played for all that was in them, Hall, Friesell, Cyard and Desha bore the greater brunt of the work in the back field. Hall handled the team with the skill which has been branded in the veteran of many gridiron battles, and his punting and passing were a treat to the lovers of the sport.

Cyard was at the bottom of every play which the Soldiers worked, and he tore out the yards each time the pigskin landed in his arms. "Bill" Inman, the Punahou tackle, who was elected at the last moment to play in that position for the Town Team yesterday, played a fine game and showed that he has lost none of the old training. He was the cause of the Soldiers losing more than one play of what might have been a gain. For the Soldiers, Baugh was perhaps the individual star. Time and again he was given the ball, and rushing through the center of the Townies' line made gain after gain. Lowndes, who played quarterback until he was forced to retire on account of a slight injury, also played a good game, and handled the team well. "Pinkie" Pastori, the lightweight end, was there with the goods in every play, and did a lot of good work in getting down the field under punts. Medphys, Reynolds, Captain Greenway, Rogenier and Wacker are also credited with having done good work. The Soldiers played a great game, and did their best in their endeavor to score. Although defeated, they have the satisfaction of knowing that it came in the form of a mighty small score.

The game started at three-fifteen o'clock, and the officials were chosen shortly before. The quarters were twelve and one-half minutes in length with a minute's rest between and fifteen minutes intermission between the halves. Following is a short summary of the game by quarters.

First Quarter: The Soldiers won the toss, chose the mauls goal, and received the kickoff. Friesell booted the leather, and Walker took it on the ten-yard line, advancing it twenty yards before being tackled. After the play through center, which netted the Soldiers a gain of five yards, Lowndes made a pass which proved to be incomplete, and the Soldiers were penalized five yards for playing offside. The Soldiers then punted, recovering the ball on the Townies' thirty-five-yard line. Another pass and several runs through center brought them within twenty yards of the goal line when, on a fumble by Baugh, the ball was recovered by the Townies. Two runs by Friesell and Desha netted the Townies seven yards, and Hall made a pass which was received by Chillingworth on the Soldiers' fifteen-yard-line. He fumbled it, however, and it was recovered by the Soldiers. They punted out of danger and Cyard took the ball near the center of the field. Cyard was sent around the end with the ball but made no gain, and then Hall took it and made a fumble, but recovered it, however. Hall then punted and the Soldiers took the ball on the fifteen-yard-line. They brought it back to the center of the field and it remained there until time was called for the end of the first quarter.

Second Quarter: The ball went into play in possession of the Soldiers on the Townies' forty-yard-line. Walker and Baugh made several good gains through the center of the line, and then the ball went over. Cyard took the ball on the first down for a gain of seven yards, and then, on the second down, the Townies fumbled, and recovered the ball. Hall then punted and the Soldiers recovered the ball once more to the center of the field. The Soldiers then took a brace and worked the ball down until it was within fifteen yards of the Townies' goal line. The Townies line, however, were up to the minute, and after four plays, the ball went over, and Hall punted out of danger. Before losing the ball, the Soldiers made a good attempt at a place kick, but the ball was blocked and recovered by them. The Soldiers took the punt on their twenty-yard-line and once more worked it back to the center of the field when time was called for the first half. No score by either side.

Third Quarter: Reynolds went in at the beginning of the second half. Hall went in for Medphys, and Greenway for Lowndes. Kamelung went in for Moore, and Kallimapehu for Kanai. The Townies kicked to the Soldiers who took the ball on the seven-yard-line and advanced it fifteen yards. Wacker, Baugh and Hall advancing the ball thirty yards, and then lost it on a fumble, the ball being recovered by Inman of the Town Team. Friesell made a long end run for no gain and then Hall took a try and tore off seven yards around left end. Desha and Hall together made six yards and then the Townies were set back by a penalty of fifteen yards. Hall punted and the Soldiers took the ball and once more worked it up to the Townies' line, where they were held back, and were unable to put the oval over the line. The ball went over and Hall punted, and once more the center of the field was the scene of action. "Fat" Lucas got in some good work at this state of the game and stopped three plays through center. However, the Soldiers worked the ball near enough the Townies' line to try for a place kick, but Sherwood got through the line and blocked it. The Soldiers recovered the ball, and on the next play fumbled it, and it was recovered by Inman. Time was called for the end of the third quarter.

Last Quarter: The ball went into play in possession of the Townies on the twenty-five-yard-line. A punt by Hall was received by Baugh who made a gain of seven yards. The Soldiers took the ball to the center of the field and kept it there, and finally it went over. Hall punted and the ball was taken by Desha on the twenty-yard-line. Once more Hall punted and this time the ball was taken by Baugh. The Soldiers rushed the ball to their old position in the center of the field, where it finally went over. The Townies then woke up and the ball was taken down the field toward the Soldiers' goal line. When within ten yards of the line, straight football was tried for the first two downs, but the Soldiers held firm, and finally Hall stepped back and with a well directed kick, dropped the ball over the uprights for the only score of the game, leaving the Townies the victors to the tune of 3-0.
